

Abbreviated Information Statement

Dear Customer, you can freely choose to register your account and it will allow you to remember items of the catalogue that you most like. Giusti S.p.A. is committed to protecting your personal data and therefore only your email address will be processed for registration purposes and will be kept within the website and will not be subject to transfer outside third Countries or disclosed to any other organisation. Moreover, it must be noted that no profiling will be done to associate your personal data with your interests using automated decisional tools. You have the right to cancel your registration whenever you like and your data will be cancelled as of that time.

For more information on data processing, please consult our Privacy Policy that you can find even in the side menu of the web-app.